Come out and learn the elements of voice over, also known as voice acting! We will explore and read different types of copy, including commercial, animated character work, and audio drama. Readings will be recorded and played back, so that students and instructor can give productive feedback. We will create characters, and may explore some accents, as well! Class is suitable for both continuing v.o. students, and new students. A separate voice recorder is useful, but not required.

The Art of Nature Journaling	K-3	Marisa Bean	Wednesday 1:00-2:00 pm	$173	7	1/25/202	3/15/2021
-------------------------------------	------------	--------------------	-------------------------------	--------------	----------	-----------------	------------------

This beginner's class will take students through six senses related to nature immersion (sight, smell, touch, taste, hearing, proprioception), focusing in on one sense each week. Students will be presented with a mini-exploration of each sense through engaging conversation and play. Instructor Kelsey will guide students through an example of nature journaling related to the sense of the week, then students will be sent off to a Sit Spot somewhere in their home environment. During the Sit Spot, students will engage in the art of nature journaling independently, and build up keen awareness skills. Upon return from Sit Spot, students will have the opportunity to share, engage, and reflect upon each other's creations. This class will not only build up scientific documentation and fine motor skills, but social-emotional competence and introspection as well. There are no rules to the nature journaling process, and your child will feel free to explore their own understandings and observations of the world around them.
